Student Timeline for College Admissions

JUNIOR YEAR

- Begin to research colleges by going to Naviance Student.
- Consider taking the SAT and/or the ACT in the spring to allow you time to review results and retake the exams in the fall of your senior year if necessary.
- Register for May AP Exams. Information will be given through your AP teachers.
- Take the US History End of Course Exam in May.
- AP Exams will be administered at Plano East during the weeks of May 4-15.
- Complete the Personality Profile and Career Interest Survey on Naviance if you have not done so and investigate colleges on the Super Match.
- Looking for opportunities to study in the summer? Check Naviance under “Enrichment Opportunities” for the latest information during the spring semester.

SUMMER 2022

- Visit colleges during the summer. Call ahead for appointments with the financial aid, admissions and academic advisors at the schools that you plan to visit.
- If you go on interviews or visits, send thank you notes.
- Go on-line to view applications and learn what information you will be asked to provide. Focus on the essay portions and decide how you would like to present yourself to the college admissions representatives.
- Decide if you are going to apply under a particular college's early decision or early action program. Remember to make note of all of your deadlines, including admissions, housing and scholarship applications!

SENIOR YEAR

August/September

- Register to take the SAT and/or ACT tests if you have not done so or if you wish to retake the tests in hopes of making a higher score.
- Attend the College Night program in September to visit with college representatives. Specific dates for upcoming college night programs will be announced at a later date.
- Double check the deadlines for college admissions/housing and scholarships and begin your applications. There may be separate applications and deadlines for housing and scholarships!
- Get a Letter of Recommendation packet from the counseling office or from our Plano East website if the college requires a letter from your counselor. Remember to allow 10 school days for your counselor to write your letter. If you need a teacher recommendation letter, provide them with a resume.
- Create or update your resume. The Resume builder on Naviance is a great tool to use!

October

- Most early action and early decision applications are due between October 1 and November 1.
- The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) will be available this month. Complete it online as soon as possible. The CSS Financial Profile will also be available this month if your college required it. Young men who are 18 years or older must prove selective service registration in order to receive federal financial aid.

November/December

- Watch the Panther Pause for the December deadline to order transcripts through Naviance.
- Take the EOC test if you did not pass all exams previously.

February/March

- Check Naviance for scholarship information and to access applications.
- Remember that grades through the third nine weeks will be used to calculate your final class rank, and you will send your final transcript to the universities at the conclusion of the spring semester.

April/May

- Watch deposit deadlines for colleges. Most colleges have a May 1 deadline for the deposit.
- Complete the Senior Survey in Naviance, which will include any scholarships that you have received.
- Colleges in Texas require that you have had a Bacterial Meningitis vaccine before you enroll. Be sure that you have taken care of this requirement!

Eight Steps to Admissions Success

1. Consider applying early. College admissions deadlines are earlier every year! Getting an application in early often gives you an advantage.
2. Take the toughest courses you can handle. A student whose curriculum includes a good number of advanced placement and honors courses has an edge over someone with slightly higher grades with a less rigorous curriculum.
3. Choose your schools well. The applications most easily dismissed are from those who have not thought at all about why they are a good match for a certain school and, therefore, have trouble making a plausible case in their essays. It is much easier if you do your research and choose the school rather than applying to numerous universities/colleges in the hopes that at least one will accept you. Be sure to ask questions about housing, meal plans and campus life!
4. Ask for letters from teachers who will be enthusiastic about you. A lukewarm recommendation can damage an application.
5. Get to know your counselor. Make sure you give your counselor plenty of time to write your letter for you. Four weeks lead-time is a good rule of thumb, but ten school days are required.
6. Craft essays to the question. Admissions officers can easily spot "one size fits all" essays, so turn in a clean copy that is carefully proofread. Don't rely on your spell check program, which won't tell you that Duke appears in the essay you intended for Princeton. Be sure that your essay gives the committee an idea of who you are as a person and as a student.
7. Do an alumni interview, if it is an option. This will signal that you are serious about the school.
8. Don't let up on academics your senior year. *Admissions committees do look at first semester grades and have been known to reject students who take it easy. Also remember that you will submit a final transcript to your college showing all of your senior year grades.
9. Keep accurate records of your application materials. Maintain a separate file for each school.

While most schools look for similar qualities in applicants, there is no sure-fire formula for getting into a particular college. With that in mind, parents and students should study college websites and quiz recent alumni, current students and admissions officials to learn which school would be the best "fit."

WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO BE SUCCESSFUL IN COLLEGE?

- Budget your time and stay organized!
- Prepare and study for your classes. Typical study time is 2 – 3 hours for every hour that is spent in class.
- Go to class and ask questions!
- Connect with your professors and with other students through student organizations and study groups.

College Admissions Options

Early Action, Early Notification – These are very similar. High school students apply in the fall of their senior year and the colleges notify them of acceptance generally by January without requiring them to commit financially. Students have until early May to accept or decline an offer of admission.

Early Decision – Early Decision is a binding agreement between you and the college, so it's essential that you be certain about wanting to enroll at that college.

By applying under an early decision plan, you are making a commitment to attend that college and surrender the right to wait until May 1 to make a decision. With this application method, a student is saying “if I am accepted, I am going – no exceptions”. High school counselors and admission officers take this commitment very seriously. It is important to know that you may apply for early decision to only one college. You may apply for regular admission to other colleges during the fall, but once you are admitted under an Early Decision plan, you must withdraw all applications to other colleges immediately.

When is Early Decision the right choice?

Advice from the experts: Don't opt for Early Decision unless you've spent time on the campus in classes and dorms, and you have a true sense of the academic and social climate of the college. Advocates of Early Decision feel that students who know exactly where they want to go and know that they have the funds to go to the school should take advantage of what Early Decision offers, but again, only if they have meticulously researched their options.

In general the Early Decision applicant pool is more competitive, but fewer in number. More competitive schools are drawing more applicants from their early decision applicants than ever before.

Be sure to investigate what happens if you are denied admission under Early Decision. Questions to ask are:

- Are you automatically placed in the regular decision category if denied early decision acceptance?
- Is the denial final?
- Is it possible to reapply?

Be Aware!!!

Colleges and universities use the terms “Early Decision”, “Early Action” or “Early Application” differently and/or interchangeably – make sure you understand how the college you are applying to uses the term!

COLLEGE ADMISSIONS TESTING

Should I take the ACT or the SAT?

Most colleges will accept either test for admission. However, you should check the admission requirements for each college to be sure. Colleges also vary as to the parts of each exam that they require or which parts that they consider for admission. Please see the chart on the following page for more in depth information.

When do I need to take the SAT or ACT?

We recommend that juniors consider taking the April, May or June SAT and/or ACT. The preferred method of registration is on-line, however registration booklets for these tests are in the Counseling Office. If registration is completed by mail, watch your POSTMARK deadlines carefully. For a quick and easy registration, you may go to the website, where you can also find information on test dates for the 2020-2021 school year. You will need to upload a photo when registering and present photo id when you arrive at the testing site.

Note: There are two types of SAT exams; the Reasoning and a variety of Subject Tests. The basic test is the Reasoning test. Only certain colleges and programs require Subject Tests.

How do I prepare for the SAT or ACT?

The best preparation for college entrance exams is to do well in your courses in high school and take on as much challenge as you can. There are also many websites and books that can help you prepare. The College Board will soon be offering free online SAT preparation in partnership with the Khan Academy. See their website for details.

THE TEXAS SUCCESS INITIATIVE

The purpose of the Texas Success Initiative (TSI) is to assess the reading, mathematics, and writing skills that entering freshman-level students should have if they are to perform effectively in Texas public colleges or universities. The test consists of three sections: Reading, Mathematics, and Writing.

Who should take the TSI?

Any student that is planning to enter a Texas community college or four-year public college in Texas is required by law to take the test, unless you are already exempt (see below), to determine your readiness for college-level work.

When should I take the TSI?

It is required that you take the test at the college that you are attending and your scores must be in place before you register for classes. Although it is not used for admission, public colleges in Texas use your results to determine course placement.

How do I register?

You will be asked to complete a Pre-Assessment activity, which is required before you take the actual TSI. Contact your admissions representative or view the website in the spring for information about where and when you can take the test and how to register. You may be required to take the test on the college campus that you are attending or another affiliate campus.

Can I be exempt from taking the TSI?

You can be exempt by attaining the following scores on standardized tests:

ACT: A composite score of 23 with a minimum of 19 on both the English and Mathematics tests.

OR

SAT: A minimum score of 530 on the Math test and a minimum score of 480 on the Reading/Writing tests.

COLLEGE APPLICATIONS

Apply Texas

The Texas Common Application for freshman admission can be used to apply to any Texas public university and some private Texas colleges. It can be completed and submitted electronically.

The website provides information about admission requirements, application procedures and major codes. The information outlines the parts you must complete, the application deadline, the application fee and the documents you must submit for each school. You will also find helpful telephone numbers, e-mail and mailing addresses and other information, such as scholarship and financial aid application deadlines, and the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) code for the university.

www.applytexas.org

The Common Application

The Common Application is the recommended form of over 900 colleges and universities for admission to undergraduate programs. Many of these institutions use the form exclusively. All Common Application schools require a counselor recommendation and 2 – 3 teacher recommendations.

The concept is simple: Students create an account and complete one Common Application and submit the form electronically to every Common Application school to which they are applying. It is important to link your Common Application account to your Naviance account before requesting transcripts or recommendations. Teacher and Counselor recommendations must be requested through Naviance.

www.commonapp.org

TRANSCRIPTS

All transcripts must be requested through Naviance.

This means all!

Transcripts for college:

APPLY TEXAS

COMMON APP

Transcripts for NCAA

- This option will be made available to you in the summer before your senior year and counselors will be visiting with you about the specifics of the procedure.
- Personal copies of transcripts must be picked-up in person from the registrar's office.
- Transcripts do not include SAT or ACT scores; these must be sent directly to the college from the testing organization.

Please Note:

Once a student requests a transcript, it will be sent regardless of whether or not the student completes the college application.

- Remember that you must submit all test scores and other required admission documents even if you are under the assured admission category! You must also meet the college’s deadlines to submit this information!

Community College: First Steps to Your Future

Community Colleges offer a number of advantages, including much lower costs than four year universities and a smooth transition to college. They also offer a variety of programs and opportunities that will help you to reach your career goals. Following are some examples:

CERTIFICATE PROGRAM – If you are excited about learning a real skill like audio engineering, networking or graphic design, one of the many certificate programs at a Community College would be perfect for you. Depending on the number of courses required to complete the certificate, you may be exempt from the TSI requirement (Texas College Admissions Test). Courses in a certificate program tend to concentrate on hands-on skill development. Upon completion of the certificate, you would have the credentials to get an entry-level position in the industry.

ASSOCIATE DEGREE (AA) – An Associate Degree may be earned by taking related course work beyond the basic certificate program. With an Associate Degree, you gain the skills for a job in the field of your study. An Associate Degree typically takes two years to complete if you are a full time student and includes several core classes in addition to the classes in your field of study.

TRANSFER PROGRAM – Community College offers open enrollment and can serve as a bridge from high school to the college or university of your choice. Texas has adopted a “Core Curriculum” which includes a number of basic courses that will automatically transfer to a four-year public college in Texas. A student may transfer to a four-year university at any time. The conditions of the transfer vary with each college, but grade point average is important when transferring! See the “Transfer U” page on the Collin College website for much more information on how to transfer to a four-year school from a community college.

PARTNERSHIP PROGRAMS – Several of the major universities in Texas have a partnership program with the Community College in their area. Austin Community College is a pipeline school for UT-Austin, Blinn College is a link to Texas A&M in College Station, and South Plains is a bridge to Texas Tech in Lubbock. Each partner school has slightly different arrangements specifying the requirements for transferring from the community college to the four-year school. Collin College has agreements with the following schools:

Austin College
Baylor University
Dallas Baptist University
Southern Methodist University
Texas A&M University-Commerce
Texas Tech University
Texas Woman's University
Texas Wesleyan University
University of Texas at Dallas
University of North Texas

DUAL CREDIT

Through dual credit, students are able to take a class for both high school credit and college credit at the same time. Plano ISD has a dual enrollment agreement with Collin College. Students must meet the guidelines for admission and enrollment at Collin College in order to be eligible. Students must also pay for books, tuition and fees for each course according to the Collin College fee schedule. Students that are eligible for the free or reduced lunch program will have their tuition waived by Collin College. Dual credit classes meet on the high or senior high school campus. The counselor will have information about which courses are available for each grade level and the transferability of these courses to other colleges.

PAYING FOR COLLEGE

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AWARDS

- Need-Based: Based only on financial need
- Merit-Based: Based on accomplishments of the student, as in grade point average, extra-curricular or community service involvement and much more!

SOURCES OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

- Federal and State Financial Aid
- College or University Scholarships.
- Scholarships from Businesses and Organizations

Federal and State Financial Aid

THE FREE APPLICATION FOR FEDERAL STUDENT AID (FAFSA)

Federal and State Governments use the FAFSA form to determine a family's ability to pay for college. After the form is submitted, a Student Aid Report (SAR) is sent to each college listed on the form. You will also receive a copy of this form, which will tell you the amount of your Expected Family Contribution (EFC). Each college will then send you an award letter outlining how much and which types of aid that you will be eligible for at their school. It is recommended that you apply as soon as possible in order to have priority consideration for aid.

PPY

Per the Federal Government, beginning in 2016, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) will be available earlier – in October rather than January – and will use tax information from two years ago (prior-prior year, or PPY) rather than from the previous year.

The change to PPY has great potential to benefit students, including:

- The ability to file the FAFSA earlier and get information about federal financial aid eligibility faster.
- The ability to use the IRS's Data Retrieval Tool to populate several questions on the FAFSA, making the filing process much easier.

Many experts believe that these changes will increase the number of eligible students who apply for and receive financial aid, and the earlier availability of financial aid information will help students and families make more informed decisions.

Be sure to check the deadline for your college; most deadlines are on or before March 15. Families are recommended to apply online, but a paper application may be downloaded. Eligibility is for one year only; the FAFSA must be submitted every year! The FAFSA website provides excellent information and an estimator of how much aid a family may be eligible to receive.

TYPES OF FEDERAL AND STATE FINANCIAL AID

- Loans
- Grants
- Federal Work Study

The FAFSA determines eligibility for all types of federal and state financial aid. It is not necessary to apply for each grant or loan separately. All Federal and State Financial Aid is solely need- based.

Federal Financial Aid Toll Free Number: 1-800-4 Fed Aid

FEDERAL AND STATE LOANS

There are many types of loans offered, but all require repayment with interest. Some are subsidized by the government, meaning that the interest on the loan is paid until after the student's graduation. Unsubsidized loans may require payment of interest during college. Most loans do not require repayment until after graduation from college. Typically, federal and state loans offer very competitive interest rates. Some types of loans are:

- HINSON-HAZELWOOD COLLEGE STUDENT LOANS: Loans for legal residents of Texas.
- PLUS LOANS: PLUS loans are for parent borrowers and provide additional funds for educational expenses. They are made by a lender such as a bank, savings and loan association or credit union.
- STAFFORD LOANS: May be subsidized or unsubsidized.

Private loans may also be sought by individual families.

FEDERAL AND STATE GRANTS

Grants do not require repayment by parents or students. Some types of federal and state grants include:

- PELL Grant: Based on exceptional family need.
- ACADEMIC COMPETITIVENESS GRANT: Must be eligible for a Pell Grant and obtain a minimum grade point average.
- FEDERAL SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY GRANT (SEOG): Eligibility is based on exceptional need.
- TEACHER EDUCATION ASSISTANCE FOR COLLEGE AND HIGHER EDUCATION (TEACH) GRANT: Provides funds for future teachers. Includes a four year commitment to teach in a high-need field in a low income school.
- TEXAS EQUALIZATION GRANT (TEG): If you are applying to a private college in Texas, you may apply for a T.E.G. by completing the financial aid form and the TEG application form, which can be obtained from the Financial Aid Office of the private college.
- TEACH FOR TEXAS GRANT: Offers assistance to those desiring to teach in identified fields or geographical areas experiencing a critical shortage of teachers. Student must complete the Recommended or Distinguished Achievement program graduation requirements. Financial need is NOT a criteria.

FEDERAL WORK STUDY PROGRAM

The program provides part-time jobs on campus for students with financial need, allowing them to earn money to help pay education expenses.

College or University Scholarships

- Can be need-based or merit-based and do not require repayment.
- Check the college's website to see if the school has its own financial aid form, which must be completed in addition to the FAFSA. Find out about general scholarship information and applications that the college offers.
- Check with the department that houses your major at the college to ask about the application procedures for departmental scholarships.
- Find out the college's priority application deadline for financial aid applications. You must submit the FAFSA and any other required documents by the deadline in order to be considered for aid.
- Some colleges and universities also require the CSS/Financial Aid Profile, which is available on the College Board website.
- Plano East receives a great deal of information on scholarships offered by individual colleges and universities and their departments. All scholarships are posted on Naviance under the "Colleges" tab. Keep in mind that the applicant pool for local scholarships tends to be much smaller, giving you a greater chance of winning the scholarship.

Scholarships from Businesses and Organizations

- Can be need-based or merit-based and do not require repayment.
- Scholarship information that the Plano East counseling department receives is updated on a regular basis on Naviance.
- All scholarship applications are available online and the links are provided
- Please read requirements for scholarships carefully to be sure that you meet all requirements.

You are not advised to pay a fee for any financial aid or scholarship information. There is no financial aid or scholarship information that you cannot find on your own or with the help of your counselor.

About the NAIA

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., is a governing body of small athletics programs that are dedicated to character-driven intercollegiate athletics.

Each year more than 65,000 student-athletes have the opportunity to play college sports at NAIA member institutions.

The NAIA is comprised of more than 250 colleges and universities and 21 conferences.

In 2010, the association opened the doors to the NAIA Eligibility Center, where prospective student-athletes are evaluated for academic and athletic eligibility. It delivers on the NAIA's promise of integrity by leveling the playing field, guiding student-athlete success, and ensuring fair competition.
